

Knowledge Is Power Understanding Your Bill

Circumstances affecting your monthly bill include changes in the weather, the number and type of appliances you use, the amount of time you spend at home and more. The following is a brief explanation of the bill you will receive from Florida City Gas and the charges approved by the Public Service Commission (PSC).

Monthly bills will reflect usage based on the read taken from your meter, which will vary from month to month depending on how much energy you use and the current cost of natural gas.

1 ACCOUNT # - This is your account number with Florida City Gas. Please mark all correspondence and payments with this number to ensure your account is properly identified.

2 DUE DATE - Although your monthly bill is due and payable upon receipt, it becomes past due if not paid by the "due date" on your bill.

3 STATEMENT DATE - The date the invoice was issued.

4 SERVICE FOR - This is the address of the property receiving natural gas services from Florida City Gas.

5 METER READ - Your meter is read at regular intervals to measure your gas usage. When you subtract your previous reading from your current reading, you know how much gas was used. All meter readings are actual unless circumstances prevented the meter from being read. In this case, the present reading will be estimated, and your bill could be adjusted after the next meter reading.

6 SERVICE PERIOD - This is the date range of energy usage included on this bill.

7 RATE SCHEDULE - Represents the rate schedule applicable to your account.

8 METER NUMBER - This number identifies your gas meter.

9 TYPE OF READING - Describes whether an actual or estimated meter read was taken.

10 BILLING PERIOD - The time period included in this bill.

11 DAYS - The number of days in this billing period - this number may fluctuate due to weekends, holidays or changes in the date we read your meter.

12 CURRENT READING - Represents the current reading taken from the meter on the date indicated.

13 PREVIOUS READING - Subtracted from the current reading to determine the amount of consumption to be billed.

14 GAS USED (CCF) - The amount of gas used when measured in CCFs (100 Cubic Feet)

15 METER MULTIPLIER - The meter multiplier is a number used to convert the meter reading into your actual energy usage.

16 BTU FACTOR - BTU is the factor used to convert one hundred cubic feet of natural gas to therms.

17 THERMS BILLED - A unit of heat measurement equal to 100,000 BTU. We calculate your bill based on how many therms of gas were used. Example: If you use 10 CCF of natural gas and the BTU factor is 1.03:  $10 \times 1.03 = 10.3$  therms billed (This example is for illustration only. Your actual BTU factor may vary.)

18 GAS CURRENT CHARGES - The total charges for your current billing period, including natural gas usage, service fees, taxes, franchise fees and any other applicable charges.

19 CUSTOMER CHARGE - A fixed amount used to cover the cost of your service, meter and billing. This charge is applied

How Weather Affects Your Energy Bills

and What You Can Do About It

Extreme weather can significantly impact your energy bills, because your energy use increases as your home works harder to maintain comfort. But there are steps you can take to keep your energy usage — and your bills — in check!

Tips to Lower Your Energy Bills

OPTIMIZE WINTER HEATING EFFICIENCY:

- › Set your thermostat wisely (68°F when home and lower it when sleeping or away).
- › Weatherize around doors and windows to prevent heat loss and ensure your attic, walls and floors have sufficient insulation to retain heat more effectively.

REDUCE HOT WATER USAGE:

- › Lower your water heater temperature to 120°F and wash clothes in cold water.
- › Keep hot showers short as possible and use low-flow showerheads to lower water heating costs.

BE ENERGY SMART:

- › Save with energy-efficient natural gas appliances.
- › Layer warm clothing to stay comfortable indoors with a lower thermostat setting.
